The Platform and its functionality are provided to the Licensee on an "as is" basis, with the functional and technical properties and characteristics, in the form and condition in which the Platform exists at the time of conclusion of the Agreement.
-------------------------------------	--

3. Procedure for Concluding the Agreement:

- 3.1. The Agreement is concluded by the Licensee's acceptance of the Offer, that is, by expressing full and unconditional acceptance of the terms of the Offer.
- 3.2. The Licensee is deemed to have accepted the terms of this document in full, without any reservations or exceptions (performing one of the methods of acceptance, without reservations or exceptions ("click agreement", "browse agreement"), in full compliance with the requirements of applicable law (expressing the will to carry out a transaction in a certain form, in electronic form)), whichever comes first:
- 3.2.1. registration on the Licensor's Platform Website.
- 3.2.2. commencement and/or continuation (the latter from the effective date of the Offer) of use of the Licensor's Platform and its features.
- 3.2.3. making payments to the Licensor for the provision of Licenses, Hosting, and Services.
- 3.3. Confirmation of acceptance of the Offer:
- 3.3.1. the log file (event registration file) of the Platform recording the fact of the Licensee's acceptance of the Offer.
- 3.3.2. confirmation of payment (payment order, payment receipt, etc.) or performance of one of the permitted methods of terminating previously accepted and existing obligations.
- 3.4. When registering and filling in data in the Personal Account of the Platform's Control Panel, accepting the Offer, and concluding the Agreement, the Licensee provides accurate information about itself. Responsibility for providing false data and the possible adverse consequences of such actions lies with the Licensee.
- 3.5. The Licensor has the right to request from the Licensee documents confirming the accuracy of information about the Licensee by any means, and the Licensee is obliged to provide the requested documents within the period specified in the request. If the Licensee does not respond to the Licensor or violates the deadline for a response, the Licensor may suspend or restrict access to the License, Hosting, and provision of Services to the Licensee. The choice of methods and extent of restrictions remains at the Licensor's discretion.
- 3.6. The Agreement enters into force from the moment the Licensee accepts the Offer.
- 3.7. Before acceptance, the Licensee must familiarize itself with the terms of the Offer posted on the Internet at: <https://aeza.net/terms>.
- 3.8. A Licensee who has performed acceptance is deemed to have read and agreed to all the terms of the Offer, and the Agreement is deemed concluded in writing on the terms of this Offer and is equivalent to a written bilateral agreement.
- 3.9. The Offer has the highest priority over other documents of the Licensor, unless otherwise expressly provided by a separate bilateral written agreement signed by authorized representatives of the Parties.
- 3.10. The Licensor makes every effort to ensure that the Offer and its annexes complement and correspond to each other (in the event of discrepancies between the terms of the documents (contradictions), the terms of the Offer prevail).
- 3.11. The priority of referenced documents is determined based on the subject of the given document (a separate document governing legal relations on a specific subject has priority in the interpretation of legal relations on that subject).
- 3.12. The Licensee, by virtue of certain specific actions, may accept additional terms.
- 3.13. The Licensee has the right to order from third parties the Licensor's rights to use third-party software, as well as Hosting Services. In this case, the terms of the relevant third parties apply, and the terms of the Offer and its annexes apply to the extent that they do not contradict.
- 3.14. The Licensor has the right to amend the Offer and its annexes.
- 3.15. Amendments enter into force from the moment the new version is posted on the Licensor's Website, unless a different effective date is established by the version itself.
- 3.16. Amending the Offer and/or its annexes entails the incorporation of these amendments into the concluded and effective Agreement, and these amendments to the Agreement enter into force simultaneously with such amendments to the Offer and/or annexes.
- 3.17. The risk of disagreement with the new version of the Offer (its annexes) is borne by the Licensee.

	3.17.1. If the Licensee continues to use the Platform or performs other actions after the amendments enter into force or after applying one of the methods of termination, which indicate performance of the Agreement under the current version of the Offer, then such use and/or actions are deemed consent to the new version of the Offer. 3.17.2. If the Licensee does not agree with the amendments made, it is obliged to immediately cease using the Licensor's services from the effective date of the said amendments. 3.17.3. Upon cessation of use of services due to disagreement with the amendments, the unused balance of funds is returned to the Licensee in the manner provided for in clause 13.8 of the Offer. 3.17.4. The Licensee is not entitled to demand from the Licensor compensation for expenses, losses, lost profits, or other property claims, or any other financial, property, or non-material compensation. 3.17.5. The Licensee unconditionally agrees with the procedure specified in this clause and waives any claims against the Licensor, except for the return of the unused balance of funds. 3.18. Upon the entry into force of a new version of the Offer and the loss of force of the current version of the Offer, the Licensor has the right to transfer (including by way of set-off) the rights to use the Platform and its functionality to the Licensee, crediting the unexpended part of the Licensee's advance payment towards the performance of obligations under the new version of the Offer. If the Licensee continues to use the Licensor's Platform after the new version of the Offer enters into force, the Licensee is deemed to have accepted the new version of the Offer. 3.19. Upon termination of obligations (set-off, etc.) for Licensees who accepted the Offer before the end of each calendar year (31 December), set-off is performed against the balance of funds in the Personal Account on the first day of the following year (01 January); for the rest, according to the rules of applicable law. 3.20. The Licensor has the right to withdraw the Offer by deleting the text from the Licensor's website. In this case, the Offer remains valid for Licensees who have previously accepted its terms, until the end of the performance period. 3.21. In the event of a conflict between the terms of this Public Offer and the terms of other documents of the Licensor or arrangements of the Parties, the terms of the Offer prevail, unless otherwise expressly provided by a separate bilateral written agreement signed by authorized representatives of the Parties. 3.22. The Licensor does not provide the Licensee with technical support and bears no liability for any losses, damage, or other adverse consequences (including but not limited to direct, indirect, incidental, punitive damages, or lost profits) arising as a result of or in connection with the Licensee's use of software intended to circumvent restrictions on access to the Internet. When contacting technical support, the Licensee is prohibited from duplicating tickets on the same issue, as well as from mass-creating requests containing similar meaning (spam). The Licensor reserves the right, automatically or manually, to close such duplicate tickets without providing a response, and in case of systematic violation, to temporarily restrict the Licensee's access to the ticket system.
4. Procedure for Interaction Between the Parties:	4.1. The procedure for interaction between the Parties in the process of using the functionality of the Platform, License, Hosting, and Services, including the procedure and forms of information exchange between the Parties, is determined both by this document and by another relevant document posted on the Platform's Website or on the Platform that governs the aforementioned relations/legal relations. 4.2. Documents provided for in this agreement may be sent by the Licensee to the Licensor electronically via telecommunication channels by means of electronic data exchange through the electronic document management system chosen by the Licensor. Electronic documents sent in accordance with this article and signed with the Licensee's electronic signature are recognized by the Parties as legally valid, provided that the electronic signature used is reliable and acceptable for the purposes of identifying the signatory and confirming the integrity of the document. The Parties have agreed on this method of signing as permissible between them. 4.3. IP Address Change.

4.3.1. IP address change is carried out on a paid basis.

4.3.2. The cost of one IP address change is determined according to the current cost displayed in the client's personal account.

4.3.3. Payment is made before the IP address change is performed. The IP address change is performed only after confirmation of payment.

4.3.4. The Licensor has the right to establish additional tariffs for packages of multiple IP address changes.

4.3.5. An order for an IP address change is placed by the Licensee in the personal account or through the support service.

4.3.6. For a paid IP address change, the Licensee is obliged to pay for the service before it is performed.

4.3.7. The IP address change is performed within up to 1 day after payment.

4.3.8. The Licensor does not guarantee the absence of short-term interruptions in the operation of services during the IP address change process.

4.3.9. Payment for a paid IP address change is final and non-refundable, except in cases where the Licensor was unable to perform the IP address change through its own fault.

4.3.10. The Licensor has the right to change the cost and conditions of the paid IP address change. Continued use of services after the amendments enter into force is deemed the Licensee's consent to the new conditions.

4.4. Types of compensation. Compensation includes: referral remuneration (a monetary payment or crediting to an account), and/or a bonus balance (credit for payment of hosting services), and/or bonus services (free or discounted services/options).

4.5. Period for receiving compensation. The right to receive Compensation must be declared and presented within 3 years from the moment of occurrence of the corresponding event giving rise to the right to Compensation, unless otherwise established by the Rules of the Referral Program or applicable law. Events giving rise to the right to Compensation include, but are not limited to: successful registration of an attracted Client, confirmed payment for services by an attracted Client, activation of a service, other conditions expressly specified in the Rules.

4.6. Procedure for counting periods and commencement of the period. The period begins to run from the date of occurrence of the right to Compensation, which is confirmed by a system record of the Company. In the event of a dispute about the date of occurrence of the right to Compensation, the data of the Licensor's system have priority.

4.7. Specifics for different types of compensation:

For referral remuneration: if the Compensation is to be paid by money transfer, the Referrer is obliged to provide the Company with correct payment details within the period specified in clause 4.5. The absence of details entails suspension of payment until the details are received; a demand for repeated payment after the expiry of the period is not accepted.

For the bonus balance: crediting of the bonus balance is carried out automatically within 30 calendar days from the moment of confirmation of the event; if the bonus is not credited, the Referrer must send a request to the support service within the period specified in clause 4.5.

For bonus services: the right to use a bonus service is valid for 180 calendar days from the moment of its crediting, unless otherwise provided by separate terms of a specific bonus promotion.

	4.8. Upon expiry of the period specified in clause 4.5, unclaimed Compensation is deemed cancelled, and the Referrer's claims for its payment/crediting are rejected, except in cases where otherwise expressly provided by applicable law. 4.9. Bonus balance. Restrictions on use. 4.9.1. The bonus balance may not be used to pay for promotional offers, special discount offers, and coupons (hereinafter — “Promo”), unless otherwise provided by separate terms of the relevant promotion. 4.9.2. The bonus balance is not the primary method of payment. If the bonus balance is insufficient for full payment of a service, the remainder is subject to payment by other permitted methods (the Client's payment details). 4.9.3. The bonus balance is not subject to withdrawal in monetary form, conversion into currency, or transfer to third parties, except in cases expressly provided for by separate terms of the Licensor. 4.9.4. The Licensor has the right to restrict the list of services available for payment with the bonus balance and to establish a minimum/maximum amount of bonus balance use for a single transaction. 4.9.5. In the event of termination of the account or violation of the terms of the Offer, the unclaimed bonus balance is cancelled. 4.9.6. The validity period of the bonus balance is established at the moment of its crediting and is specified in the Licensee's personal account. Upon expiry of the period, the bonus balance is automatically cancelled, unless otherwise provided by the rules of a specific promotion. 4.9.7. Decisions of the Licensor's system regarding the crediting, debiting, and status of the bonus balance are priority evidence; in the event of a dispute, the Licensee is obliged to present evidence of its position. 4.9.8. The use of the bonus balance is governed by this Offer and the Rules of the referral/bonus program.

The Licensor's receipt of payment and proper performance of obligations for the Reporting Period are confirmed by records in the Licensee's personal account. 7.2.2. In the event of disagreement with the amount or content of a receipt or with the content of the Licensor's obligations for the Reporting Period, the Licensee has the right to submit objections within 14 (fourteen) calendar days from the date of receipt of the corresponding receipt or the end of the Reporting Period. The absence of objections within the specified period does not deprive a Licensee who is a natural person of the right to raise justified objections within a reasonable time within the limits provided by applicable law.

8. Liability:	8.1. Liability of the Licensee: 8.1.1. The Licensee is responsible for ensuring that the content of the information, files, content, and executable code hosted on the Platform's resources complies with the requirements of applicable law and international law, including liability to third parties, in cases where the Licensee's hosting of information and content, or the hosting and execution of executable code, leads to a violation of the rights and legitimate interests of third parties.

8.2. The Licensee bears sole responsibility for the content of information transmitted by it or by another person using the Licensee's credentials on the Internet and on the Licensor's resources (within the framework of administrative, civil-law, and criminal liability): for its accuracy, freedom from third-party claims, and the legality of its distribution. The Licensor is not responsible for the content of information transmitted by the Licensee via the Internet and the Licensor's own resources.

8.3. The Licensee assumes full responsibility and all risks associated with the use of the Internet through the Licensor's resources, including for:

8.3.1. the content of information resources created and maintained by the Licensee;

8.3.2. the preservation of information hosted by the Licensee, unless otherwise provided by the Agreement;

8.3.3. violation of the Agreement, the Platform Rules, and other documents published on the Licensor's Platform Website.

8.4. The Licensee independently bears responsibility for harm caused by its actions, committed personally or with the help of another person using the Licensee's credentials, using the Licensor's leased resources, to the person or property of citizens, legal entities, the state, or to the moral principles of society.

8.5. At the Licensor's request, the Licensee is obliged to compensate the Licensor for all property losses in connection with the occurrence of one or more of the following events:

8.5.1. the filing of claims and/or lawsuits related to rights to software and other software products used by the Licensee on the Platform's resources, provided that the rights to such software products and software do not belong to the Licensor;

8.5.2. the filing of a claim and/or demand related to the Licensee's hosting of information and content on the Platform's resources or other use of the Platform's resources that resulted in a violation of third-party rights or a violation of the requirements of applicable law;

8.5.3. the imposition of administrative or other liability on the Licensor, if such liability arises due to the Licensee's non-compliance with the requirements established by applicable law;

8.5.4. the filing of claims and/or lawsuits by third parties in connection with a violation of their rights as a result of the Licensee's actions committed when using the Platform's resources.

8.6. The amount of compensation for property losses is recognized as equal to:

8.6.1. the amount of fines, penalties, compensation, and other payments in favour of any third parties, obligations to make payments on the basis of a court decision or a resolution of a competent state authority, including the amount of losses that may be recovered from the Licensor or third parties involved in the performance;

8.6.2. the amount of expenses for accounting, financial, legal, and other consulting services to protect the rights and interests of the Licensor.

8.7. The Licensee undertakes to compensate the Licensor's property losses within 7 days from the date the Licensor presents a claim.

8.8. The Licensor is not responsible for:

8.8.1. the unlawful actions of the Licensee;

8.8.2. delays, interruptions in operation, and the impossibility of full use of the Licensor's own resources, the loss of the Licensee's information (data) hosted on the Licensor's facilities, occurring directly or indirectly due to the actions or inaction of third parties and/or malfunctions of transport and information channels located outside the Licensor's own resources, including as a result of the limitation of the computing power available to the Licensor for reasons beyond the Licensor's control;

8.8.3. the quality of communication lines and networks, if they are organized by third parties;

8.8.4. lost profits, as well as any indirect losses incurred by the Licensee during the period of use or non-use of the Platform or the Licensor's services.

Nothing in this Agreement excludes or limits the Licensor's liability to the extent that such exclusion or limitation is not permitted by applicable law. In other cases, the Licensor's compensation for losses is limited to the amount of actual documented damage and may not exceed: for a Licensee that is a legal entity or sole proprietor — the cost of the corresponding services for one month under the current tariff plan; for a Licensee that is a natural person — the cost of the corresponding services for the paid period in which the losses arose.

9. Force Majeure:	9.1. The Parties are not liable for the non-performance (improper performance) of their obligations if the non-performance (improper performance) was caused by circumstances of insuperable force (hereinafter — Force Majeure Circumstances), and these force majeure circumstances affect the possibility of performing the Agreement. 9.2. Force majeure circumstances include, but are not limited to: 9.2.1. wars and military operations; 9.2.2. riots; 9.2.3. sabotage; 9.2.4. strikes; 9.2.5. fires; 9.2.6. explosions; 9.2.7. natural disasters; 9.2.8. the issuance by relevant regulatory authorities of regulatory acts of a prohibitive nature; 9.2.9. the issuance of acts by relevant foreign regulatory authorities and international organizations, including on the introduction of sanctions and export restrictions; 9.2.10. other circumstances provided for by law. 9.3. The Party whose performance of obligations is hindered by the relevant circumstances is obliged to notify the other Party of the occurrence of force majeure circumstances within 03 (three) business days from the date of occurrence of such circumstances. Failure to comply with the said notification obligation deprives the Party of the right to invoke force majeure circumstances. 9.4. The period for performance of obligations is proportionally postponed for the duration of the force majeure circumstances and their consequences, unless otherwise provided by an additional agreement of the Parties. 9.5. The Parties are not liable for any losses or expenses associated with claims or lawsuits of third parties that may arise as a result of force majeure circumstances.

10. Security:	10.1. The Licensee ensures the confidentiality of its credentials (Login and Password), as well as other authorizing information of the Licensee in the Licensor's system. The Licensor is not liable for losses and property damage of any kind incurred by the Licensee in connection with the latter's disclosure of its credentials. Security of data processed by the Licensee: 10.2. If the Licensee uses the features obtained under the Agreement for the purpose of processing personal data, secrets protected by law, or other confidential information, the Licensee independently ensures the security of such data. 10.3. If the Licensee processes personal data through the use of the Platform, the Licensee is the operator of personal data and bears full responsibility for such processing. 10.4. The Agreement is not an instruction to process personal data. The Licensor does not process personal data that is processed by the Licensee. 10.5. The Licensee is not entitled to use the Licensor's services (hosting, servers, domains, networks, IP addresses, CDN, backup, and other services) for: hosting, operating, or supporting the operation of crypto exchanges, trading platforms, exchangers, P2P marketplaces, and other services for trading cryptocurrencies or other virtual assets; conducting mining, validation, staking, or other operations for the extraction/generation of cryptocurrencies, including using the Company's computing resources; providing infrastructure for cryptocurrency payments, wallets, custodial and non-custodial services; carrying out any other cryptocurrency activity. 10.6. The Licensor under no circumstances bears responsibility for the safety, integrity, loss, theft, or compromise of any digital assets (including cryptocurrencies, tokens, private keys, seed phrases, etc.) hosted by the Licensee on the Licensor's computing resources, including in violation of the prohibitions established by this Article. The Licensee understands and unconditionally accepts that any operations with digital assets on the leased capacities are carried out by it at its own risk, and financial losses caused by the loss of access to data (including as a result of immediate blocking for violation of the Offer) are not subject to compensation by the Licensor. 10.7. The Licensor has the right to restrict the Licensee's services in the event of: • detection of an abnormal load on the infrastructure; • detection of large traffic exceeding reasonable limits for the tariff plan; • the load creating a threat to the stability of the infrastructure. Upon the first application of a restriction, the Licensor notifies the Licensee of the fact, the reasons, and the recommended actions in the personal account. The notification may be sent after the fact of the restriction if an immediate restriction is necessary to protect the infrastructure. In the event of repeated cases of abnormal load and/or more than 2 times within 30 calendar days, the Licensor has the right to block the Licensee's access to services fully or partially until the violations are eliminated. The blocking may be temporary (until the requirements are fulfilled) or permanent (in case of systematic violations and/or refusal to cooperate). The Licensee is obliged to analyze the causes of the violations, optimize the use of resources or switch to a tariff with larger limits, and contact the support service to agree on the further possibility of using the services. The Licensor is not liable for a temporary decrease in the quality of services, interruptions in operation, or losses of the Licensee arising as a result of the restriction or blocking.

11. Applicable Law and Dispute Resolution:	11.1. The law applicable to the Agreement and its annexes is the law of Hong Kong. 11.2. The pre-trial claim procedure is mandatory for the Parties to the Agreement. 11.3. The period for reviewing a claim is 30 (thirty) days from the date of its receipt, unless otherwise provided by law. 11.4. Pre-trial claims are sent to the Licensor exclusively to the email address legal@aeza.net and are reviewed only through this channel. Claims received by other means (including the ticket system and requests to the support service) are not accepted for review in the pre-trial procedure. The Licensor has the right to review a claim without observing the official procedure at its discretion, responding in the same form and by the same method by which the claim was submitted. 11.5. The Licensor has the right to send a claim to the Licensee: 11.5.1. in writing to the address known to the Licensor; 11.5.2. using electronic document management, where the claim is signed with an electronic signature that duly allows the user to be identified; 11.5.3. via the ticket system in text format with attached documents, where necessary; 11.5.4. by email in text format and/or by sending a scanned copy of the signed claim. 11.6. The Licensor has the right to send a request to a regulatory authority or third party, in which case the Licensee fulfils the requirements or presents reasoned objections within the time frame specified in the Licensor's request, and if not specified in the request, within a reasonable time. 11.7. All disputes that are not settled in the pre-trial procedure are subject to review by the judicial authorities of Hong Kong in accordance with applicable law. The language of the proceedings is English.
12. Notices:	12.1. The Parties recognize the binding legal force of: 12.1.1. the official exchange of correspondence to legal addresses and/or places of residence;

	12.1.2. the transmission of correspondence through electronic document management systems (hereinafter — EDM); 12.1.3. correspondence, including within the ticket system; 12.1.4. documents and/or information forwarded to the following email addresses: from the Licensee — the email addresses specified as the contact address or accounting address of the Licensee in the Control Panel; from the Licensor — any email address with the aeza.net domain. 12.1.5. notices to the Licensee by publishing them on the Licensor's Website and/or in the Control Panel. Correspondence sent by the above methods is recognized by the Parties as documents having simple written form and originating from duly authorized representatives of the Parties, even if they do not contain information about the sender. 12.2. The risk of non-receipt of messages by the Licensee when the Licensor sends the relevant messages by any of the methods listed in this section lies with the Licensee, including in the event of specifying an incorrect email address in the Control Panel, refusal to read letters and messages, including those received via the ticket system, and so on. 12.3. In the event of an incorrect indication of the email address, loss of access to email, and/or a change of email address without notifying the Licensor, as well as in the event of impossibility of reading, any notices of the Licensor sent to the email address specified by the Licensee are deemed duly received. 12.4. If the Parties have doubts regarding the receipt and/or sending of email messages and other actions related to the use of the Licensor's interfaces, the information provided by the Licensor shall be reliable evidence of the aforementioned events. 12.5. The Parties are obliged to report all cases of hacking or other unauthorized access to their email addresses within 2 days from the moment of detection of such unauthorized access. The absence of such notification deprives the Party of the right to invoke the said circumstances, and electronic messages transmitted to such email address are recognized as duly sent. 12.6. Deadlines for individual requests. 12.6.1. If the Offer does not establish a period for reviewing any request or demand, then: 12.6.1.1. the Licensor specifies a period for responding to or performing actions on the request or demand; 12.6.1.2. the Licensee sends a request to the Licensor, and the Licensor provides a response no later than 30 (thirty) days from the date of its receipt.
13. Term and Termination of the Agreement:	13.1. The Agreement is concluded for a term of one (01) year from the effective date. In the absence of publication of amendments to the Agreement, the validity of this Agreement is extended for the same term, on the same conditions (an unlimited number of repetitions). The Agreement for each Licensee enters into force from the moment of acceptance of the Offer by that Licensee. 13.2. If a Party has not sent written notice of refusal to renew the Agreement to the other Party 30 (thirty) calendar days before the expiry of the Agreement, the validity of the Agreement is automatically extended for each subsequent year on the same conditions, unless the Parties agree otherwise. The number of renewals is unlimited. 13.3. The Agreement applies to the relations of the Parties that arose before the conclusion of the Agreement (acceptance of the Offer). 13.4. General grounds for termination of the Agreement. 13.4.1. The Parties have the right to terminate the Agreement by one of the following methods: 13.4.2. by unilateral, unmotivated refusal no later than 15 (fifteen) days before the date of termination of the Agreement; 13.4.3. by agreement on termination. 13.5. Special grounds for termination of the Agreement by the Licensor. 13.5.1. The Licensor has the right to fully cease providing access to individual functionality of the Platform or the provision of related services, which can no longer be accompanied by sending a written notice to the Licensee 15 (fifteen) calendar days before the date of cessation. In this case, the unexpended funds in the Licensee's Personal Account may be used to order other related services or to select a different Tariff. 13.5.2. The Licensor has the right to withdraw from the Agreement if the Licensee: 13.5.2.1. violates the terms of the Agreement and/or its annexes (Platform Rules, Service Level Agreements, etc.); 13.5.2.2. performs technical or other actions not provided for by the Agreement or agreed with the Licensor, and which have caused or could have caused losses to the Licensor and/or third parties; 13.5.2.3. shows signs of insolvency (bankruptcy) or has been declared insolvent (bankrupt); 13.5.2.4. has committed violations of anti-corruption legislation or legislation in the field of combating the legalization of proceeds obtained by criminal means; 13.5.2.5. sends spam; 13.5.2.6. in other cases provided for by law. 13.5.3. In the event of repeated detection of violations, the Licensor has the right to terminate the agreement without prior notice. 13.5.4. If the Agreement is terminated as a result of the Licensee's violation on the special grounds specified above, the Licensor has the right to: 13.5.4.1. demand the elimination of the violation or the risks of its occurrence; 13.5.4.2. set a period for termination of the Agreement at its discretion; 13.5.4.3. in the event of a repeated violation, terminate the Agreement without prior notice. 13.6. Special grounds for termination of the Agreement by the Licensee. 13.6.1. The Agreement is deemed terminated on the ground of non-payment within the following periods from the moment of suspension of access to the service: for hourly payment and dedicated servers: non-payment within 24 hours from the moment of suspension of access to the service; in other cases: non-payment within 5 (five) days from the moment of suspension of access to the service. Upon termination of the Agreement, all site files, databases, and other information hosted by the Licensee will be deleted from the Licensor's resources without additional warning. In the event of early termination of the Agreement before the expiry of the paid period, the Licensor, on the basis of a request from the Licensee sent through the request system, returns the unused balance of funds for the corresponding Service, less the cost of services actually rendered and the expenses incurred by the Licensor. No refund is made if the Agreement is terminated as a result of the Licensee's violation of the terms of the Offer, its annexes, or applicable law.

14. Final Provisions:	14.1. The Licensee agrees that the Licensor may use the Licensee's corporate or non-commercial name, commercial designation, trademarks, and other means of individualization, as well as the Licensee's logos, and information about the conclusion of the Agreement for informational and advertising purposes, unless the Licensee has sent a reasoned refusal through the ticket system within 10 (ten) calendar days after the Licensee's acceptance. Consent is granted for the term of the Contract throughout the territory of all countries of the world, but without the right to transfer the exclusive right. 14.2. The Licensee agrees that the Licensor may process the Licensee's personal data for the purposes of effective performance of the Agreement. Consent is given solely for the purposes specified in this Agreement, and not to store them longer than necessary to achieve these purposes. The Licensee undertakes: after achieving the processing purposes or upon termination of the Agreement (whichever occurs earlier), to take all possible measures to irrevocably delete all personal data transferred to it, unless otherwise required by law or is in the public interest; to provide the Licensor, upon its request, with written confirmation of the deletion of data indicating the date and method of deletion; to immediately notify the Licensor if it is unable to delete the data for legal reasons or if it becomes aware that it continues to store data that is no longer needed for the processing purposes. 14.2.1. The Licensee consents to processing by any means, with the exception of cross-border transfer and distribution of personal data. The Licensor has the right to request confirmation of consent from the Licensee, and the Licensee provides confirmation of consent within 02 (two) business days from the date of receipt of the request.

14.3. The Licensee is responsible for the absence of consent.

14.3.1. The Licensor, as well as third parties, have the right to send the Licensee advertising materials about the services and promotions of the Licensor and its partners only with the prior explicit consent of the Licensee, expressed by a separate active action during registration or in the Control Panel. Consent is not deemed obtained by virtue of the Licensee's silence or inaction. The Licensee has the right to withdraw consent at any time; the withdrawal is performed within no more than 10 (ten) business days from the date of the request.

14.4. The Parties are obliged to notify each other of their details within seven (07) days from the date of their change. The Licensor has the right to notify of a change of details by posting the relevant details in the Control Panel or on the Licensor's Website, which will be deemed proper notification.

14.5. The Parties recognize that the Licensor's electronic signature, the Licensor's handwritten signature reproduced by mechanical copying (facsimile), as well as any other method of reproducing the signature in electronic or other form on documents related to the performance, conclusion, or termination of the Agreement, have equal legal force with the Licensor's handwritten signature, provided that: such method is used to identify the Licensor and confirm its approval of the information contained in the document; the method used is reliable and appropriate for the purpose for which the document is transmitted; the Licensee gives its consent to the use of such method of signing.
